Our commitments

Sustainable agriculture and protection of social & environmental values has become more important than ever before in the rapidly expanding world of ethical business. In this context, Watawala Plantations PLC is;

- Strongly committed towards protection and conservation of the environment.
- Taking our social responsibilities very seriously by ensuring real benefits to employees & local communities.
- Adopting best practices from the industry into its daily operations and throughout the entire supply chain.

In demonstrating our commitment to good agricultural practices we shall;

- Use only high yielding seeds from approved suppliers for better yield and strictly abide by quarantine regulations.
- Develop the land for oil palm planting with proper land use planning.
- Incorporate soil conservation measures to conserve top soil.
- Supply balanced organic and inorganic fertilizers to replenish nutrient requirement and enrich soil.
- Use integrated weed and pest management methods.
- Harvest only well ripened bunches for maximum oil extraction.
- Undertake replanting program to maintain continuous supply of fresh fruit bunches

We commit to continuous improvement by research & development and new technology adaptation in our agricultural practices.
